CHAMP CLARK AND THE PRESIDENCY

Washington, June 12.—When William W. Rucker spoke on the bill providing a means for the direct election of senators, he closed his speech by referring to Speaker Champ Clark as the next President. The storm of applause rose from floor and galleries, from both sides of the house while Speaker Clark, red and embarrassed, vainly pounded for order. Again and again the hubbub rose until the Congressmen tired themselves out.

But it is a dull day when some member, in the course of his remarks, does not nominate Clark for the presidency.

And Clark says nothing: He is sawing wood, working with might and main to make good in the speakership. He says: "The democrats elected me to the most responsible position they had to give, and my duty is here, helping the democratic house to make good and I am not going to neglect my duty in order to go gallivanting around the country seeking another office."

Clark has not uttered a word or turned over his hand to bring about his present prominence in the presidential race. So far as can be learned, he has never broached the subject to anyone, yet the fact remains that he is leading both Wilson and Harmon in many states, while reports from hundreds of sources indicate that he has some following in every nook and corner of the country, the result of his being on the firing line for thirty-odd years, fighting his party's battles, no matter who might be the nominee.

The Washington Times states that the democratic members of congress are for Clark for a two-thirds or three-fourths majority with the remainder divided between Harmon and Wilson. Clark is second choice with nearly all of these last. That is a formidable showing to start with, as each member, in almost every case, controls the selection of the two delegates from his own congressional district.

In a short time the pressure on Mr. Clark will become so strong that he will almost be forced to allow his partisans to begin organizing in his behalf, whereupon shrewd politicians about the capitol look for the Clark boom to literally sweep the country. So far there is not even a Clark press bureau, but the Clark sentiment grows daily, based on these facts.

Clark comes from the closest state in the union, a state carried by Roosevelt and again in 1908 by Taft by 635 votes out of 750,000 cast. He is acceptable to both the Bryan and Hearst wings, because of the purity of his record covering seventeen years in congress. He is the only candidate prominently mentioned who did not bolt the ticket in 1896. While acceptable to Bryan and Hearst his clear headed, conservative record as Speaker of the "best acting" congress in recent years has gained him the complete confidence of the solid, honest, business men of the country.

Cleveland wrecked his party by reason of the fact that he did not know how to work in harmony with congress. Clark's supporter calls attention to the fact that he has demonstrated that he can work in perfect accord with his party in congress, while to select a president without experience of this kind would be trying again the same experience.

Tuttle Citizens Will Appeal for Aid.

Tuttle, Okla., July 12.—The three years' drouth which has prevailed in this section of the state has caused such conditions that citizens of Waldon and Tuttle townships today held a mass meeting to devise ways and means of appealing to the governor for aid. Conditions have become alarming and the farmers and those dependent upon them have been driven to want and suffering.

A delegation was selected and instructed to call on Governor Cruce and make known to him the action of the meeting and see what, if anything, can be done to relieve the serious condition that has developed.

MRS. A. N. DAVIS HURT IN A RUNAWAY

Sunday at Lovelady school house, Mrs. A. N. Davis of Steedman, was badly hurt in a runaway. She, her daughter and grandson were driving a mule to a buggy when in some way the animal became frightened and ran away. When the vehicle was turned over the other two occupants escaped unhurt, but Mrs. Davis was caught underneath and dragged some distance. Her collar bone and a rib were broken. Mr. Davis was sent for and has been with her since.

Train Kills Boy near McAlester

McAlester, Okla., July 11.—A boy about 13 years of age asleep on the track five miles north of the city was struck by a southbound Katy passenger train this morning and killed. The body is at a morgue here unidentified. He was well dressed. This afternoon another boy who said his name was Charlie Williams and that he was from Fort Worth, Tex., told the police that he and the dead boy were on their way to Tulsa and became separated at Atoka. He said the dead boy was from Midland, Tex., but he could not remember his name.

W. L. Graves Goes to McAlester. Midland, Texas, July 11.—The boy killed at McAlester is believed to be the son of W. L. Graves, of Midland. Mr. Graves left for McAlester this evening.

THE TENT MEETING

8th and Oak Ave.

We had a nice attentive crowd last night to hear "The Seven Last Plagues." It was shown from scripture that these plagues will be poured upon the wicked who "receive the mark of the beast."

An appeal was made to get all to turn away from man-made institutions and worship and obey the God that made the heavens and the earth. The subject will be:

"The New Birth."

We are not presenting man-made theories nor preaching off hand. We have a use for our Bibles when we teach and think the people have a right to hear the evidence read. We ask no one to take our word. Ask the people who come to our tent if we preach the Bible.

We invite all to attend each evening.

BRIGHT PROSPECTS FOR TRADES DAY

The News is highly pleased with reports that are coming in of the interest being taken by citizens throughout the county in the Ada Trades Day. There can be no doubt about a big crowd being present, and from the premium list and the program found in another column, it is plain that the entire day will be full of interest to everybody.

The exhibits will be displayed in the two large rooms in the west side of the Harris Hotel, where it is thought that everything can be shown to good advantage. The committee is especially anxious that those who intend to exhibit be on hand as early as possible. In fact, the early ones will get the best of it in the placing of their produce, and this in itself should be a strong inducement for them to be on hand at the earliest possible moment.

FINDS SON'S BODY IN

ST. LOUIS MORGUE

St. Louis, Mo., July 11.—Mrs. Minnie Grimes' long search for her son ended in her identification here Monday by means of a photograph of a young man crushed to death in a box car last April as her son.

Since October 20, 1910, Mrs. Grimes has had no news from the young man whose name was Floyd McEwen, he being the child of a former marriage. At that time he sent her $20 from Bakersfield, Cal. Her home is in Oklahoma City.

Failing to hear from him she went to Bakersfield. She picked up one clew after another and followed it, without obtaining trace of her son. Then, on a mere chance, she decided to come to St. Louis.

Morgue Keeper Provost had kept the body of the young man until June 20, in the hope it would be claimed. "I took a lot of interest in that young fellow," he told Mrs. Grimes, "because he had a good face, and I could see he wasn't a bum."

Provost's interest went to the extent of having the face photographed. When Mrs. Grimes looked at the picture she and her two children, living here, identified it.

The body was found in the box car at the foot of St. George street, April 23. The car carried lumber and a long heavy timber had toppled over on the young man, apparently as he slept.

Citizens of Deval Appeal for Help.

Deval, Okla., July 11.—We, the undersigned relief committee, hereby petition the people of Dallas through The News for relief caused by the recent hail and windstorm, which has practically rendered the country barren.

Owing to weather conditions, crops are almost a failure; houses have been destroyed, wearing apparel lost, and the farmers in general are without means of sustenance; and, under these conditions, on account of being unable to render aid through local means, we are forced to call on the outside world for aid.

Thanking you for any donation, either financial or otherwise, we are, the relief committee.

100-Story Building Planned For N. Y.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 11.—Plans for a building 100 stories and 1,200 feet high have been drawn according to George Mertimer, who addressed the convention of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers here today.

The structure probably will be built in New York in the near future he said.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will serve lemonade, ice cream cake, soda pop, etc., on Trades Day. 84-2td

BIRDWELL CASE GOES TO JURY

Argument in the Tom Birdwell case began this morning when court convened and the case was finally given to the jury at about 3:30. J. W. Dean opened for the state. He was followed by Jno. P. Crawford and J. W. Bolin for the defense and the closing argument was made for the state by Robert Wimbish. As the paper goes to press the jury is still out.

Preparations are being made for the trial of Liffley Black, charged with the murder of Frank Hatcher at a picnic south of town about two years ago. The county attorney will be assisted in the prosecution by R. E. Davenport of Chickasha, and the defense will be conducted by Jno. P. Crawford and E. G. McAdams of Oklahoma City. From this line-up it is evident that a strong fight is in prospect.

CAN YOU CATCH THE GREASED PIG

One of the most laughable features of Trades Day will be the free for everybody race after the greased pig. The porker will be turned loose promptly at ten o'clock and who ever manages to catch and hold the wild porker will also hold a clear title to him. As no hog ever did anything he was expected to do, it is absolutely certain that the fun will be rip-roaring when a dozen men and boys start out in the chase.

ADAITES TRAVEL COUNTRY.

While Corn Must Fall Short, Cotton Prospects Could Hardly Be Better.

Messrs. Adam Beck, Tom Hope and Otis Weaver, made a through country trip Tuesday afternoon to Byrds Mill, Roff, Fitzhugh and Lawrence, embracing the travel of fifty miles through a section which afforded opportunity to form to some extent a more or less definite opinion of the reasonable crop prospects at such distance from the period of gathering. There was no appearance that cotton was suffering for rain, and with the exception of one field where the stalk had taken on blooms immaturely, a finer prospect for a cotton crop could hardly be figured out. But, of course, the corn prospect could not afford any such satisfaction, for the majority of fields, with the parched blades of the stalks and the absence of shoots or the cessation of growth of the silks by failure of generation by the tassels, looked discouraging. However some corn is already made and with the rains lately favoring nearly all sections of the county the crop is sure to be helped and much assisting feed stuff will be raised.

Referring back to cotton, even at this early time for anything like safe estimates, one could hardly find a taker to the wager that Ada will market more cotton this season than last, and the Ada receipts last year were the second in size in Oklahoma.

GOSPEL TENT ON NORTH SCHOOL GROUND

Another large audience was present at the tent last night on the north school ground. The singing was immense. A number of new songs were learned. Miss Rushing, a splendid organist, did much to help in the music last evening.

The subject for the evening was "Behold the Man." Christ in the Bible the church, the world's history and in the human heart was upheld.

The subject for tonight will be "Lost and Found."

STATE WELL GOES DEEP.

Temporarily Suspended Pending the Arrival of a Rotary Drill.

Oklahoma City, July 12.—Work on the state well at Hooker has been suspended by J. H. Chaffee, the contractor, until a rotary machine can be installed. The drills have reached a depth of 450 feet, but the presence of quicksand has rendered progress too slow. The contract calls for 900 feet. During the first 400 feet a few strata of clay were encountered, the formation being similar to the blue gumbo found in Southeast Texas. The rotary machine will penetrate the quicksand more effectively than a drill point, and Mr. Chaffee does not apprehend delay in reaching the 500 and 600-foot levels.

A fine flow of artesian water was obtained at Hooker, at 540 feet, but the contractors are unable to tell whether success will be the result in Oklahoma. The town of Hooker will contract, it is understood, for continuing the well beyond the state's contract if water is not found. Fine flowing artesian water is often found at a very great depth. The Marlin, Tex., wells are 3,350 feet, at Fort Worth it is 1,100 feet and at Waco, 1,700 feet.

Quick Work in Shoeing Horses.

Childress, Tex., July 11.—James E. Briggs, a local horse-shoer, this afternoon established a world's record in horse shoeing. Briggs shod all around, seven nails to the shoe, the first horse in four minutes and thirty-two seconds, the second horse in four minutes and fifty-one seconds. Both jobs were pronounced first class. Horse men kept time with standard pacing watches. Driving a nail crooked in the second contest prevented Briggs from lowering his first record.

Sullivan President of the Elks.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 11.—John P. Sullivan of New Orleans was today elected grand exalted ruler of the Elks after one of the most exciting contests in the history of the order. The vote: Sullivan 814, Ramsey 547, Moreland 233, Ticknor 8.

TO DISTRIBUTE FUNDS OF CHIC-CHOC TRIBES

Washington, D. C., July 12.—Before leaving for Oklahoma, Representative Bird McGuire made arrangements for the introduction of a bill providing for a per capita distribution of the funds of the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations now held to their credit in the treasury of the United States. There is at present $2,800,000 in the treasury credited to the two tribes.

INDIAN FREE AFTER THIRTY-THREE YEARS

Washington, July 12.—President Taft Tuesday reviewed the action of President Hayes in a pardon case in 1878 and extended executive clemency to Joseph Hua Wade, a half-breed Choctaw Indian, who has spent the last thirty-three years in jail for a crime against a woman.

President Hayes in 1878 saved Wade from hanging and commuted his sentence to life imprisonment. The man is now old and feeble and still protests his innocence. President Taft ordered him released at once. The crime was alleged to have been committed near Caddo, Indian Territory.

NERVE.

Many a man is making his way through the world with no other resource than his nerve. It is a fine substitute for brains and is often mistaken for that invaluable asset. It is a splendid working capital, and is the chief support of all new counturies. No new country was ever settled and developed by weaklings.
 That is a task that only the stron-est are capable of handling. Then, too, it will never do for a man to lose his nerve in his first encounter with adversity. Such a course relegates him to the bone yard at once.
 If he is built along the right lines, the man will simply take a new grip on himself and come again, and profiting by his first experience, give hard luck a heavier jolt than ever. In fact, it requires a certain amount of rough experience to develop the best qualities there are in a man.

A NOVEL RACE.

Just now a very novel race is being run from New York to Washington. The chief figures are a big elephant and a lop eared donkey. It all grew out of a conversation held not long ago between "Uncle Joe" Cannon and a New York show man. The latter gave it as his opinion that in 1912

 M. E. Rail, of this place.

"I was a great sufferer for 2 years and perfect health.

"My daughter, when changing into gave her Cardui and now she enjoys good health.

"Cardui is worth its weight in gold. I recommend it for young and old."

Being composed exclusively of harmless vegetable ingredients, with a mild and gentle medicinal action, Cardui is the best medicine for weak, sick girls and women.

It has no harsh, powerful, near-poisonous action, like some of the strong minerals and drugs, but helps nature to perform a cure in a natural easy way.

Number of Patents Reach 1,000,000.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The United States government will issue its one millionth patent for an invention on August 1 next, and the honor will go to an inventor who has been designated by President Taft.

Commissioner of Patents Edward Bruce Moore has been looking forward for some time to a celebration of patent No. 1,000,000. It was his hope that this distinguished number should go to some epoch making invention.
 Several weeks ago President Taft received a letter from an American inventor saying he had perfected a device which he intended to patent, and that he would like to have the honor of receiving No. 1,000,000. The president asked the commissioner to comply with the request if it were not incompatible with the regulations of the office.

The commissioner reported to the president that the device was meritorious and would constitute a valuable addition to the list of American inventions and that patent No. 1,000,- 000 would be granted the inventor.
 The number was placed in reserve and will be officially recorded on the first issue day of August.

The United States patent office will be 122 years old when the coveted number is issued. The bureau was established in 1790 as an adjunct to the treasury department. Early in 1836 there was a fire which destroyed not only the building of the patent office, but every record, all the important drawings and papers, and every model owned by the government.
 Prior to the fire the office had issued 9,937 patents.

The destruction of the records compelled an entire reorganization and therefore the system of numbering was started with No. 1 again.

The first strictly American invention to receive a patent from the original United States patent office was the cotton gin. The patent was issued March 14, 1794, to Eli Whitney.
 The number of the Whitney patent was not preserved. Neither was the number of Fulton's steamboat, for which a patent was issued February 11, 1800.

Following the resumption of a regular system of serial numbers for patents the first important American invention to be granted a patent was the Colt revolver.

The next great American invention to receive a patent was the Morse telegraph instrument. The patent No.
 1647 was issued June 20, 1840. The patent issued to Charles Goodyear, June 15, 1844, acknowledged his invention of the process of the vulcanization of India rubber. The basic patent of the pneumatic air brakes was issued to George W. Westinghouse April 13, 1869. It bore serial number 88929.

In granting to Elias Howe his patent No. 4750 the patent office according to him the distinction of inventing the sewing machine. The patent is dated September 10, 1846.
 The "four motion feed," invented by
 A. B. Wilson and patented by him December 19, 1854, brought the sewing machine into universal use. Elias Howe made more than $4,000,- 000 out of this single idea.

The next invention to demand world wide attention through the medium of the United States patent office was Alexander Graham Bell of telephonic instruments in the name of patents covering the various parts of telephonic instruments in the name of Bell, but the basic parts are but two. No. 174465 was issued March 7, 1876. No. 186787 was issued June 30, 1877.

Quickly following upon the heels of Professor Bell came Thomas Alva Edison. Edison's patent to the Phonograph was No. 200521. It was issued February 19, 1878. Two years later, on January 28, 1880, he patented the incandescent light and received patent No. 223898.

The Advent people have just completed their large church building on corner of 4th avenue and 3rd street.
 After the church gets the furniture installed it will be one of the most up-to-date buildings of the kind in town.

Last Friday while Frank Healy was working on the Advent building he accidentally let a nail fly that struck him in the eye that may cause him to lose his vision. He is reported at this time as doing very well.

The writing school at the school house closed last Thursday and the nail driving contest for the ladies was the most laughable part of the program.

The school at Cedar Grove began the citizens in that district expect an excellent term for the school is

The Baptist Ladies Aid gave an ice tory.

J. R. Chandler, a farmer living 2 miles east of town who was badly hurt on the barbed wire fence last week has been removed to the hospital at Sherman, Texas, where he has just been under a serious operation by the surgeons of that city. The last report from Mr. Chandler was that he stood the operation well and is now on the road to a quick recovery.

Guy Edwards is in the hospital at Sherman and has had a painful operation by the surgeons of the hospital.
 He is reported improving and that he will soon return to Francis.

We have been informed by Mr.
 Poor, foreman of the city water works that he has the well down 21 feet and that he had to suspend work until he could get more and larger machinery to pull the water as fast as it comes in so he can go on down and fulfill his contract.

Last Friday J. C. Condren an old gentleman living about five miles east of town was tried in justice court charged with disturbing the peace of Mrs. Birdwell. Mr. Condren was acquitted by the jury.

Where is that light and ice plant?
 We know it is coming by its staying away so long and we are still looking with all the eyes we have to see its bulky form advancing on the town.

The other day two boys came into town with three little fish on a string and with a momentum that caused their coat tails to project two feet behind them. Such speed along the public street of the town always draws our attention and after taking the second look we saw a man a few yards behind them traveling with equal velocity with a .22 gun in his hand. We do not know whether the man with the gun wanted blood, boys or the fish for we never asked for particulars in cases like this one, especially when the interrogated has a gun in his hand and the boys were going to fast.

The prospects this eve is good for more rain that is needed very bad on crops of this part of the county.

UNIQUE REUNION IN KANSAS

Drum Corps at Winfield Revives "Spirit of '76"—Soldiers Gather From Every State in Union.

Kansas is noted for its old soldier reunions, where attendants are more or less waving the old flag and recounting old tales of glories long past.
 But Winfield claims to have an old soldiers' reunion unusual in many respects.

Winfield's old soldiers' reunion is incorporated under the laws of the state of Kansas, with a charter for 50 years.
 Winfield permits no concessions to be sold. The reunion is supported by contributions from the citizens.
 There are no merry-go-rounds, no shooting galleries, no squeaking balloons, no riding whips, no confetti on the grounds of the old soldiers' reunion in Winfield. The week is entirely given over to recalling reminis-cences of valor and confessing recollections of fear by the soldiers at the camp meetings, held each morning in the auditorium at Island Park, to listening to good old war songs and mod-

"Did You Happen to Know—?"

ern music by the best band in Kansas, and to speeches by Kansas' silver tongued orators.

The reunion of this year has been the most successful of any meeting held up to date, and several remarkable reunions were attendant upon it.
 Soldiers were gathered from practically every state in the Union, to the number of 325 altogether, while 400 soldiers' wives and widows and daughters were registered. One hundred and twenty-six tents were fitted up with all housekeeping appliances, occupied by old soldiers, their wives, their sons and daughters and grandchildren. The meeting brought together many family reunions as well as not a few old soldiers who had fought side by side during the war and had not met since.

A feature which attracted greatest attention and warm praise and aroused patriotic springs long dormant, was the Douglas drum corps.
 Seven drummers and fifers who played their instruments all through the Civil war, in different regiments and from different states, chanced at the close of the war to settle in Butler county, adjoining Cowley county on the north.
 These men discovered years ago each other's occupations during the war and formed the Douglass Drum Corps.
 As much time as these men can spare from their prosperous farms they devote to playing at soldiers' reunions.

A. P. Douthitt of Cowley county and William Hill, fifer of the drum corps of Butler county, have lived within twenty-five miles of one another for 30 years. They were acquainted and yet this reunion was the occasion of developing the following between them for the first time. Douthitt was on the camping ground when Hill arrived. He chanced to ask Hill to what regiment he belonged.

"To the Second Wisconsin," replied Hill.

"Did you ever happen to know a drummer in that regiment named Hershal Smalley?" inquired Mr. Douthitt.
 "Well, I should smile," Hill replied.
 "He drummed with me all through the war. He was a prisoner at Andersonville, and I lost him."

"You did?" queried Douthitt. "Well, I found him. I was taken prisoner at Chickamauga. In Andersonville for 17 months Smalley and I slept under the same blanket every night. He got smallpox and I never took it."

"And it was my life you heard when we fellows came to release you," Hill rejoined.

Such incidents were frequent during the reunion. Crops were forgotten; the excellence of the wheat; the fall-ure of the corn; the relative merits of millet and timothy; the superiority of alfalfa over prairie hay, were not mentioned. Nothing was discussed but wartime adventures, trials and occasional pleasures. Closer friendships were formed and ties drawn nearer through the reminiscences which, except for this model reunion, would never have been related.

Paid After 45 Years.

Forty-five years ago Capt. J. Cutter returned to Marietta, Ohio, from the Civil war. The other day the war department sent him a check for $2.31 back pay.

There's Not a Store In Town

That Would, In Six Months From Now
 Be Half as Important as it is Now, if it Should Stop Advertising During That Time!

Isn't that perfectly true—perfectly logical?
 Can you imagine any store of which it would not be true?

And, if true, does it not follow that the reverse of the proposition is true, too—that the store that doubles its accustomed advertising for the next six months will also double its accustomed store growth for that period?

And does not this, also, apply to any store you can think of in this town?

Killing Near Randlett.

Lawton, Okla., July 12.—Jesse L.
 Fletcher, 60 years old, shot and instantly killed Jesse Bardlow, 21 years old, seven miles north of Randlett, this county, Monday. Fletcher was out hunting when he met Bardlow. One load of shot entered the young man's side and a second his head. Fletcher surrendered to county officers and is now in jail here.

Bardlow eloped a year ago with Fletcher's niece and Fletcher has been bitter ever since.

Appeal to the Feminine.

SHE TALKED THROUGH HIS HAT

For Her Husband Carried a Wireless Receiver Under His Silk Topper.

The newest thing in wireless is to talk through a hat, says the World Today. Frank Chambers, of Philadelphia, who has been experimenting for years in curious methods of using the wireless means of communication, has succeeded in making a receiving apparatus so small that it can be carried in the crown of a high hat.

He has a sending apparatus at his home and he has taught his wife to use this and has perfected her in the Morse code, at which he is an adept. Consequently he enjoys the pleasure of being able at any time to carry on a one-side conversation with his wife.

Chambers has three ways of connecting the receivers at his ears with the wireless machine at his home. He can hitch to the guy of a telegraph pole, he can stand on a metal manhole, or he can stand on the rail of a trolley road. By this method any wireless enthusiast can keep in touch with his headquarters while camping during the summer by rigging up a simple aerial and a wireless sending apparatus and then talking with him on his excursion the simple little receiving device that he can carry in his pocket.

He will not be able to report his own progress, but he will at least get the camp news, and by agreeing to be in a receptive situation at a certain time any man can get the latest news from home by means of the little wireless device, provided he has installed a sending apparatus and trained his wife to use it as Chambers has.

PASTIME.

Starved in Mexican Jail.

San Diego, Cal., July 12.—Harry Dell, emaciated and plainly suffering from the effects of five months, imprisonment, arrived in San Diego from Ensenada today.

He was released from the Mexican jail yesterday afternoon and through the efforts of Frederick Simpich, American consul, secured passage to American territory on the power boat San Diego.

Dell was arrested at Tijuana on order of the late Jose Larraque last February. He was suspected of being a rebel spy and arrangements, it was said, were made for his execution. The case attracted so much attention that it finally was decided to take him to Ensenada. He was placed in jail there and for five months treated as other Mexican prisoners. Not being accustomed to the rough prison fare, his health failed.
